St. Paul's Hospital & Foundation: Together, for Good.

For more than a century, St. Paul's Hospital has been where compassion meets innovation, grounded in strong faith. Since 1982, St. Paul's Hospital Foundation has stood alongside the Hospital, rallying the generosity of our community to bring health, hope and healing to all. Together, inspired by the legacy of the Grey Nuns and guided by our Catholic values, we have built a tradition of care that honours body, mind and spirit.

Now, we are stepping into a new chapter that celebrates where we've come from, and also reflects the promise of where we're going.

Why Rebrand?

We decided to refresh our brand after listening to many voices from inside and outside the Hospital. We set out to honour the history and values that have shaped St. Paul's as a hospital and as a part of the community throughout the years, while creating a brand that reflects our future and the diverse community we serve. By sharing what makes us unique, we affirm our role as a trusted health and community partner, enhancing the experience and well-being of each person through excellence in care.

What's New

Our refreshed brand unites St. Paul's Hospital & Foundation: Together, for Good under one identity and one promise — for our community, for our patients, for our staff ... for good.

You'll see it in the new warm and welcoming colours, the modern website, the photographs and stories we share, and in the way we connect in each moment of care and interaction. More than a design update, these are tools to help us share our legacy of holistic service to the community, highlight the transformative projects we take on, and invite more people to be part of our mission, from advancing life-saving innovations to expanding holistic, compassionate care.

How We Did It

Beginning in January 2023, many people and groups lent their perspective to this project. We included individuals from Hospital departments, volunteer groups, partner organizations, the Foundation and Emmanuel Health. We took a thoughtful and deliberate approach, engaging voices from across our community.

St. Paul's Hospital & Foundation

With Gratitude

For all the wonderful community members who support us, the patients and families that we serve and those who serve them, the heart of St. Paul's remains the same.

This new brand will make it easier for others to see what you already know: that St. Paul's is a place where dignity, compassion and innovation meet to create better care for all.

You have always been an essential part of our story. Every step forward and every life touched carries your fingerprints. As we enter this next chapter, we are deeply grateful to have you walking alongside us as we build a healthier, more compassionate community for all.

*We are together,
for good.* —

Shared Mission

A community of health, hope and compassion for all.

Shared Vision

Together, through community collaboration and a steadfast commitment to health equity, we are transforming health care. Guided by Catholic values, we deliver holistic, compassionate care that nurtures body, mind and spirit — welcoming all with dignity, hope and healing.

Empowering Patients on Their Kidney Health Journey: SIGA

At SIGA, community investment is a core value. The organization invests nearly $2 million annually into initiatives that support health, education, culture and economic development. Now, SIGA is extending that commitment to include kidney care by giving a very generous matching gift of $100,000 to the By Your Side Kidney Care Campaign.

“One of our guiding principles, Witaskêwin, refers to sharing the land or, in today’s terms, sharing our resources,” says Desiree Gervais, Vice President of Human Resources and Corporate Relations. “This principle drives our dedication to Sharing Success with the communities that our seven SIGA Casinos and online PlayNow Saskatchewan serve. This commitment naturally led us to support the By Your Side Campaign.”

The campaign was a natural fit for SIGA’s commitment to community, as health is one of its community investment pillars and the campaign addresses a critical health challenge in Saskatchewan. Chronic kidney disease affects 1 in 10 people in Saskatchewan, with 1 in 3 Indigenous Peoples impacted by the diagnosis. “By supporting kidney care initiatives, we’re empowering communities, strengthening families and reducing the burdens that come with managing chronic illness ... creating lasting change that extends well beyond the hospital,” Gervais explains.

The nonprofit First Nation organization has seen these effects firsthand. “Kidney disease has a profound impact on the 74 First Nation communities we represent at SIGA, as well as on our employees. As a leading First Nation employer with around 1,600 staff members, we have witnessed kidney disease impact on our team members and their loved ones,” says Gervais.

Because the By Your Side Campaign includes both early detection and culturally safe care, the “impact will be measurable in lives saved and families kept together,” Gervais says.

SIGA President and CEO Zane Hansen shares this vision. “Health care works best when it respects the diverse needs of all patients and their families,” says Hansen. “SIGA is proud to support the By Your Side Campaign because it creates solutions that truly serve our communities. The Early Screening Program will help prevent the development of kidney disease so people can remain at home with their families, while the [Indigenous] Healing Centre will offer a supportive space for Indigenous Peoples from across the province, providing cultural programming and traditional supports alongside quality medical care.”

That vision is already taking shape. Chief Tammy Cook-Searson, who serves as Chief of Lac La Ronge Indian Band and Chair of the SIGA Board of Directors, sees the benefits of early screening during the pilot Early Screening

Program that is running in partnership with her own communities. “The Lac La Ronge Indian Band is participating in the pilot Early Screening Program, where I witnessed how early screening can prevent the progression of kidney disease. The pilot program also provided band members with valuable education and awareness on the impacts of kidney disease. This experience reinforced why I see the By Your Side Campaign as a vital investment in building resilient communities across Saskatchewan,” says Cook-Searson. “Strong communities start with healthy families who have access to quality health care.”

Chief Cook-Searson echoes Zane Hansen’s sentiments regarding the new Indigenous Healing Centre, adding that “while early screening can help prevent the progression of kidney disease, equally important is ensuring culturally appropriate care when treatment is needed. The Indigenous Healing Centre will provide a safe space for thousands of First Nations Peoples from across the province during their time at St. Paul’s Hospital.”

SIGA’s support of St. Paul’s Hospital and Foundation is having a true impact. “SIGA believes in partnerships that create real, lasting change for the communities we serve,” Hansen concludes. “Through the By Your Side Campaign, we’re supporting Early Screening Programs and culturally appropriate treatment options that together create a more complete health care experience that serves both medical and cultural needs for the people of Saskatchewan.”

Committed to End-of-Life Care: Mike and Rhonda Stensrud

For Mike and Rhonda Stensrud, supporting end-of-life care is deeply personal. It is not just about giving back; it is about offering comfort, dignity and peace to people in some of life's most vulnerable moments. The Stensruds' decision to be matched-gift donors for SPH Foundation's recent Giving Light mailing reflects their long-standing commitment to supporting compassionate care at SPH's Palliative Care Unit and the Hospice at Glengarda, building on their past generous gifts to the Hospice.

Mike served eight years on the Board of Directors for the former Saskatoon Health Region, including a term as Chair. During this time, he experienced the health care system from a new perspective. That experience stirred him to support the creation of environments where people facing end of life are met with gentleness rather than urgency, and surrounded by peace instead of a clinical setting. His work to bring a residential hospice to Saskatoon became a defining project.

"The development of the Hospice is one of the best, maybe the best achievement that we had during my time as Chair of the Saskatoon Health Region," Mike says.

The drive to support the Hospice did not come only from boardroom insight; it came from Mike and Rhonda's personal experiences supporting family and friends as they moved through the health care system and faced end of life. From his sister's hospital stays to the final journeys of his parents, Mike's connection to health care became deeply human.

"Those connections, I think, forge a tighter bond than just a give-back sort of approach."

Those bonds inspired him to keep pushing, building partnerships, advocating behind the scenes and helping guide the hospice project to completion alongside of leadership at Emmanuel Health and St. Paul's Hospital. Today, the Hospice at Glengarda stands as a place of calm and care for families during a time when they need it most. "I think it's just absolutely fantastic," Mike says. "The only thing more important than living well is dying well, and if you can have a little bit of peace and tranquility at the end, that's so important."

Mike also serves as a trustee with the Maunders McNeil Foundation, which contributed to the Hospice as well. When the chance came to serve as the matched-gift donor for the 2024 and 2025 Giving Light mailings, Mike and Rhonda were glad to help.

"Anytime you can help factor your own donation, I think it's a wonderful thing. Everybody feels like their giving is amplified," Mike explains.

Their hope is simple: that others might feel inspired to give as well, knowing they are helping someone find peace at the end.

"I think dedicated end-of-life spaces can provide that peace of mind and that little bit of tranquility," Mike concludes.

For Mike and Rhonda, that is the greatest gift of all.

"The only thing more important than living well is dying well, and if you can have a little bit of peace and tranquility at the end, that's so important."

Community Events Bring Hope and Health

Vegas Garden Party

On May 10, 2025, Bohlmann Event Productions, led by mother and son Sheila and Tristan Bohlmann, hosted the Vegas Garden Party to raise awareness and funds for kidney health. Inspired by Sheila's kidney transplant in January 2024, the event aimed to bring attention to and provide support for the growing demand for dialysis and kidney transplants in Saskatchewan.

Thanks to the generosity and enthusiasm of donors, the event raised an impressive $24,591 in net proceeds to support the Saskatchewan Transplant Program at St. Paul's Hospital and St. Paul's Hospital Foundation's By Your Side Kidney Care Campaign. Together, these initiatives support patients throughout their kidney health journey by improving care services, increasing quality of life and facilitating life-saving transplants for individuals with advanced Chronic Kidney Disease.

Tristan and Sheila's exceptional planning and dedication is making a true difference, and inspiring others to create meaningful change in kidney health across the province.

Ahmadiyya Youth Run for Saskatoon

Every year, the Ahmadiyya Muslim Youth Association (AMYA) brings our community together through their Run for Saskatoon charity event. AMYA hosts these inspiring runs across Canada, and the 2025 Run for Saskatoon marks the sixth year they've organized this meaningful event locally. With incredible generosity, AMYA has chosen St. Paul's Hospital Foundation as the recipient of the funds raised through these runs. The 2024 Run for Saskatoon raised an impressive $12,000 to support the hospital's most urgent needs, and on September 14, 2025, the run once again raised vital funds for St. Paul's. AMYA has pledged to raise $100,000 over 10 years; this powerful commitment promises to make a lasting difference in the health and well-being of our community for many years to come.

Heath Muggli Memorial Ball Game

St. Paul's Hospital and Foundation extend sincere gratitude to the Saskatoon Cubs 18U AAA baseball team and their leadership for their thoughtful support. On July 12, 2024, before their game against the East Central AAA 18U Red Sox, the Cubs hosted a moving ceremony honouring the late Heath Muggli, a beloved sportsman and community figure. Heath's family was presented with an honorary jersey signed by the team, highlighting his lasting impact.

All proceeds from the event were generously donated to the Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health at St. Paul's Hospital, where Heath received compassionate care. Through donations and an auction, the Cubs and their supporters raised $4,535 to help others facing similar health challenges. The Saskatoon Cubs' heartfelt tribute exemplifies the spirit of community and care that uplifts us all.

MRI Scanner Retrofit

Thank you to all those who provided generous support for our MRI Scanner Retrofit. Because of you, we successfully raised $992,000 for this vital project. The upgraded MRI system at St. Paul's Hospital is now fully operational and making a difference.

This retrofit transformed our 2008 scanner into a Siemens Avanto Fit System, increasing patient capacity and improving accuracy and efficiency. That means shorter wait times, faster diagnoses and better outcomes for the thousands of patients who rely on us every year. St. Paul's plays a key role in providing MRI exams in our region, and now we can do even more thanks to your support. Your contribution has truly made this possible.

Digital X-Ray Suite

Because of your generous support, we are excited to share that the new Digital X-Ray Suite at St. Paul's Hospital is now fully operational and delivering on everything we set out to achieve.

Thanks to the $485,000 contributed by our thoughtful community, patients are now receiving faster, safer and more accurate diagnostic imaging. This new technology captures high-quality digital images of bones, lungs and organs, helping our teams diagnose fractures, infections and other conditions quickly and effectively. With improved efficiency and image clarity, we can begin treatment plans sooner and provide better care to every patient who comes through our doors.

Our Digital X-Ray Suites are in high demand, performing more than 20,000 scans annually. They also allow off-site radiologists to review images remotely, which is especially valuable in urgent situations. Your generosity has helped make this possible. Thank you for ensuring patients in our community have access to the advanced care they need, when they need it most.

Portable X-Ray

Portable X-Ray

Thanks to donor generosity, our Foundation was able to distribute $162,000 to bring a life-changing piece of technology to St. Paul's: the Portable X-Ray System. We now perform over 5,000 scans a year with this vital equipment. The Portable X-Ray System allows care teams to bring imaging directly to patients' bedsides, especially those in critical condition. This is making a real impact in high-need areas like the ICU, trauma and emergency rooms, recovery units and inpatient wards.

The ability to conduct fast, accurate imaging without transporting vulnerable patients improves both comfort and care. It also speeds up diagnosis and treatment decisions when every second matters. Our imaging team has reported that they love the new equipment! Because of you, our health care providers have the tools they need to deliver exceptional care right when and where it's needed most. We are deeply grateful for your role in making this possible.

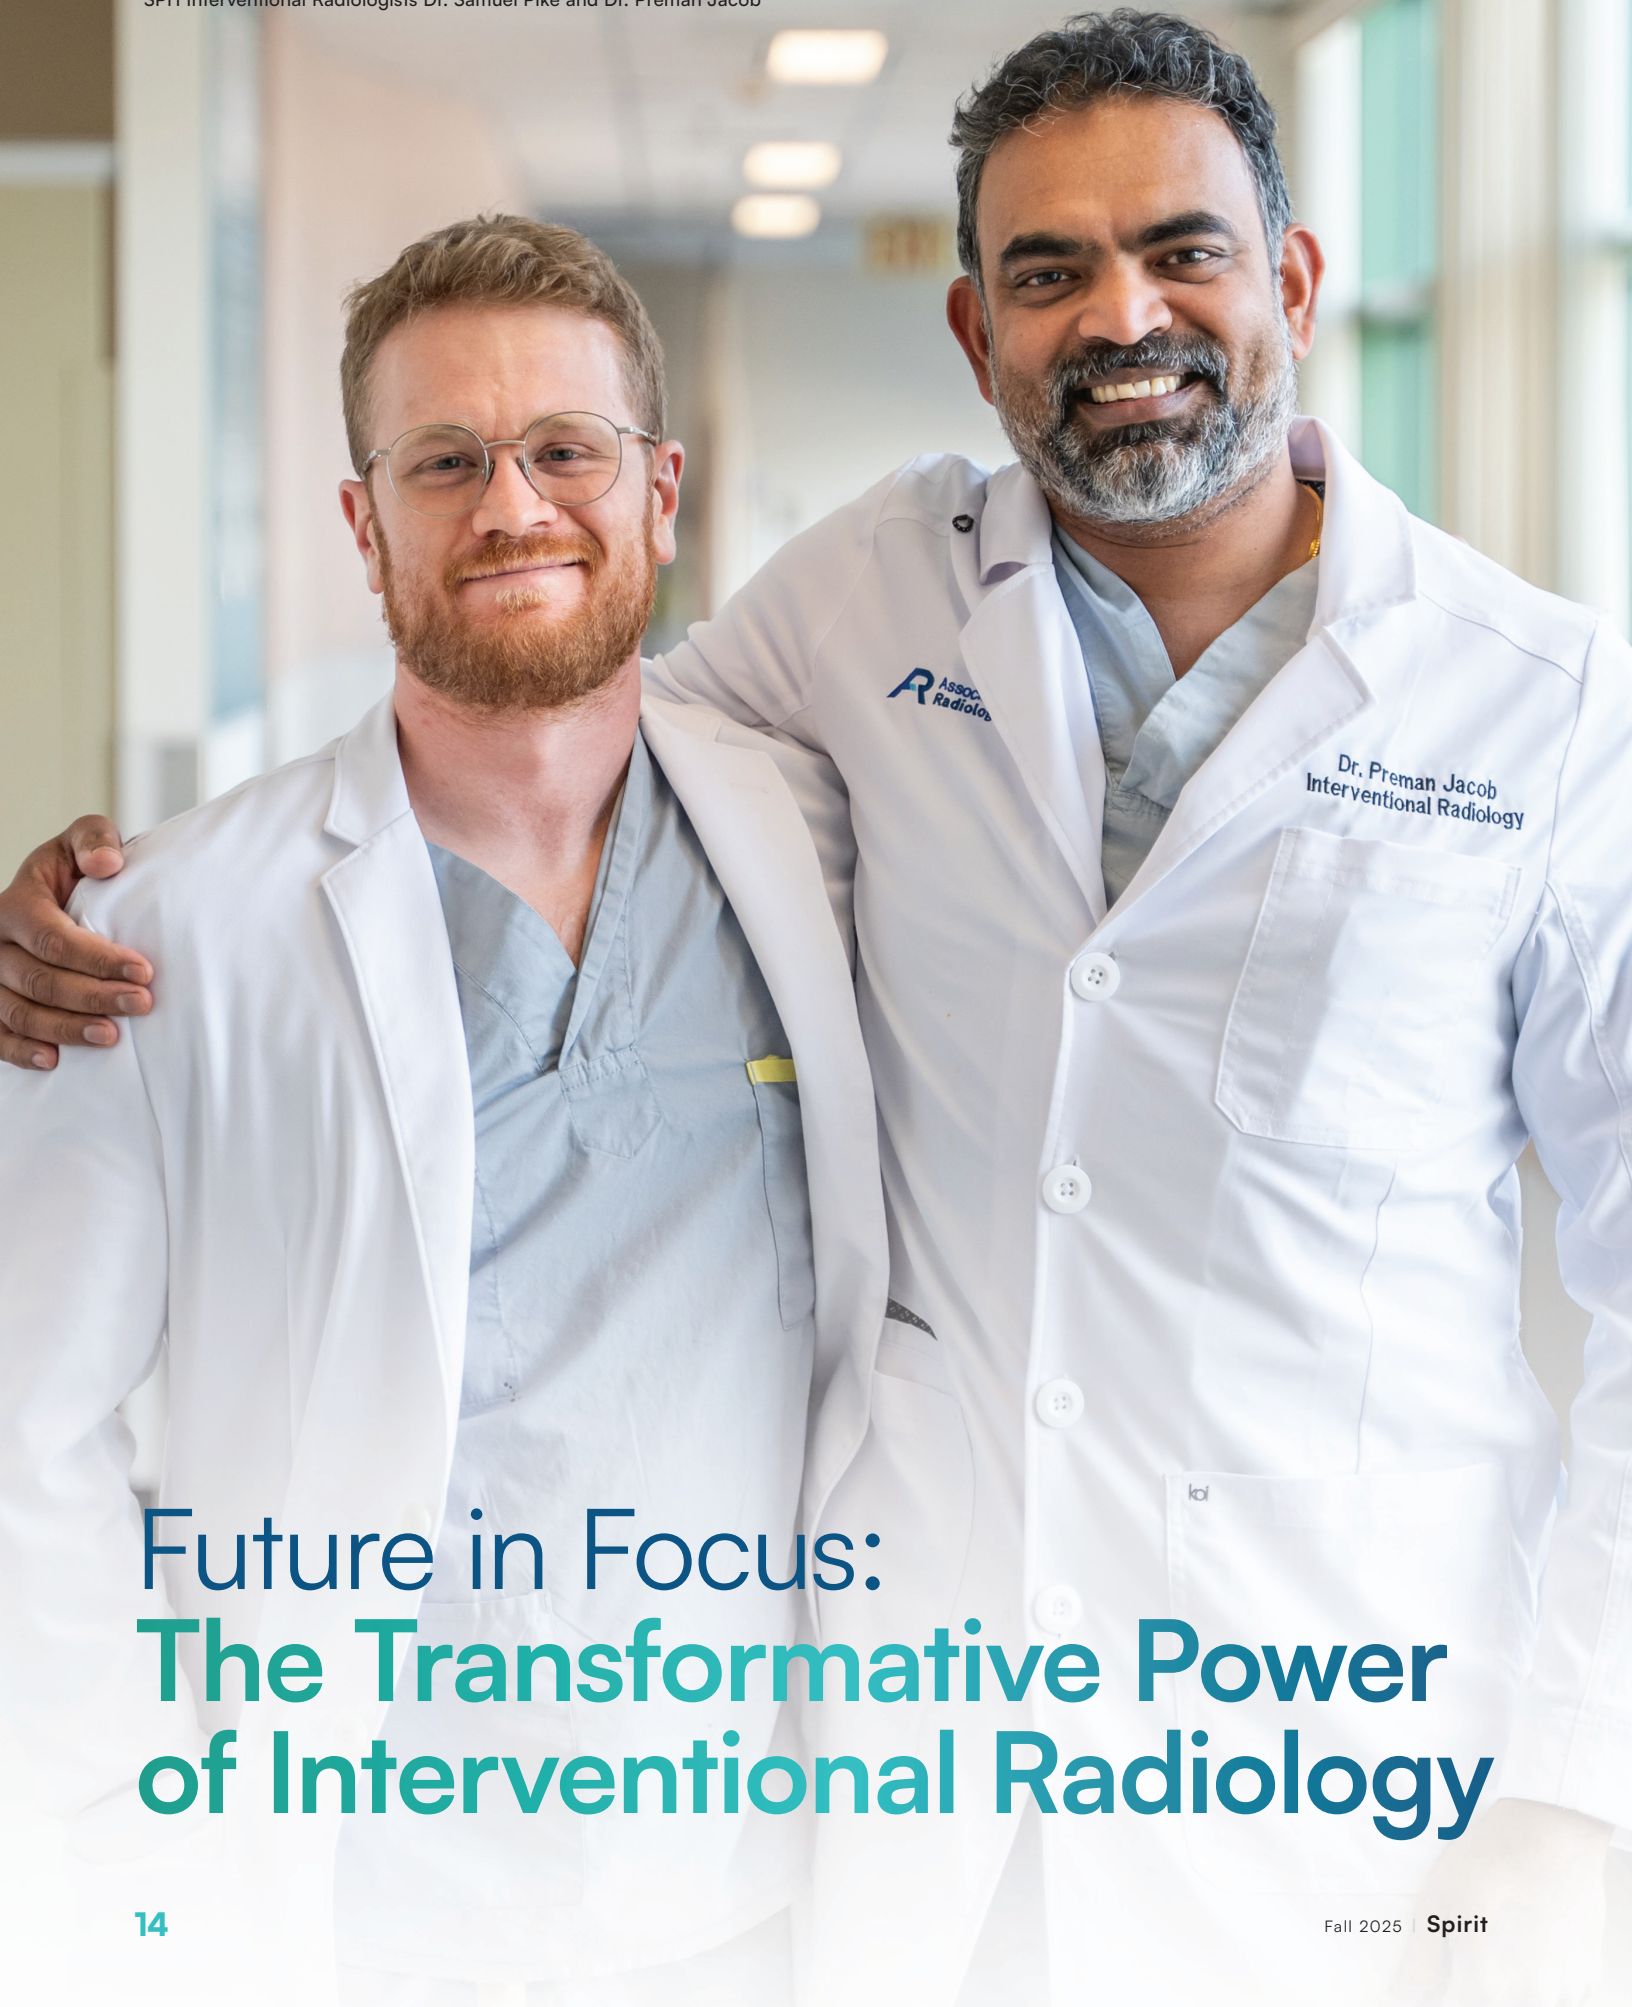

The Portable X-Ray System allows care teams to bring imaging directly to patients' bedsides, especially those in critical condition.

NanoKnife

In 2016, SPH Foundation committed $500,000 to help launch a bold new initiative that brought together the former Saskatoon Health Region, the Ministry of Health and the Foundation in a unique partnership. That investment supported the collaborative efforts of Dr. Kunal Jana, Dr. Trustin Domes, Dr. Chris Wall and Dr. Michael Moser to introduce NanoKnife, a cutting-edge cancer treatment using electrical pulses to destroy tumours while sparing surrounding healthy tissue. What began as a pilot study, positioning Saskatoon as one of the first centres in Canada to use the technology, has grown into a nationally recognized program offering patients safer, less invasive alternatives to major surgery.

For many, NanoKnife means shorter hospital stays, fewer complications and better quality of life. Today, under the leadership of Dr. Chris Wall, the most experienced NanoKnife operator in Canada, St. Paul's is home to one of only three NanoKnife programs in the country. Donor support has made this innovation possible, and we are truly grateful to our community for their trust and generosity.

Our community's commitment to innovation throughout our Hospital has led to real change. In our Diagnostic Imaging Unit, our donors' support has transformed how we care for patients. Now we are using this momentum to propel a transformative journey for our Interventional Radiology team within Diagnostic Imaging.

At St. Paul's Hospital in Saskatoon, the future of patient care is being shaped by innovation and precision in Interventional Radiology (IR). This rapidly evolving field transforms how medical conditions are treated, using minimally invasive techniques guided by real-time imaging. This allows patients to heal faster and with less discomfort compared to traditional surgery.

Central to the IR team's progress is the plan to develop a new, state-of-the-art Interventional Radiology suite. St. Paul's Hospital Foundation is leading the effort to bring this important project to life. Currently, thousands of patients a year are served by our existing suite. A new suite will enhance the Hospital's ability to deliver cutting-edge care, combining multiple diagnostic tools in one room and improving efficiency and accuracy. The new suite will support patients throughout our Hospital, including:

- Emergency trauma victims who need immediate, minimally invasive interventions to stop bleeding and save their lives.
- Those who need vascular surgery: our Interventional Radiologists support our vascular surgeons before and during vital procedures.
- Cancer patients who will avoid major surgery because of targeted, image-guided ablation.
- Patients with prostate disease who require quick, non-invasive kidney drainage procedures that dramatically reduce the risk of infection and maintain health, comfort and dignity.
- Patients with chronic pelvic pain who find relief and hope through a therapy that restores their quality of life.

With this transformed suite, procedures will become even faster, safer and more precise. At the same time, health care providers will benefit from reduced radiation exposure and improved efficiency, which will allow them to focus their energy on patient care. Having CT scan capabilities within the IR suite will also free up hospital resources, making diagnostic services more accessible for many patients.

Dr. Samuel Pike, Interventional Radiologist

We've already got the right experts for the job. Our Interventional Radiology team is one of Canada's best, offering NanoKnife cancer treatment and advanced procedures alongside compassionate teamwork with departments across our Hospital.

The Foundation's work to fund this project will ensure St. Paul's remains at the forefront of health care innovation in Saskatchewan. By advancing care close to home, St. Paul's is ready to meet the growing needs of patients throughout the region. Alongside the Foundation's $2 million fundraising initiative, the Saskatchewan Health Authority is also contributing $1 million toward this vital technology.

This project serves as a powerful example of what's possible when our province, our Foundation and our community come together.

For our patients.
For our staff.
For our community.

Together, for Good.

Extending Care Beyond Our Walls: Prostate Cancer Symposium

The Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health Prostate Cancer Symposium: Survive and Thrive is more than an event — it is a powerful reminder that care doesn't stop at the doors of St. Paul's Hospital. It extends education and community connection, made possible by the support of generous donors who believe in a better path forward for patients and families affected by a prostate cancer diagnosis.

This meaningful annual event is celebrating its 13th year in 2025, with Dr. Kishore Visvanathan serving as an outstanding host for the final time before his upcoming retirement. Sessions will include "Incontinence After Prostate Cancer Therapy" with Dr. Garson Chan, Urologist and Associate Professor at the University of Saskatchewan, and "The Science of Empowerment" with Dr. Rob Rutledge, Urologist and Associate Professor of Medicine at Dalhousie University, which will highlight the effects of diet, stress management and exercise on wellness after a diagnosis of prostate cancer.

This important symposium acknowledges that a patient's prostate cancer journey does not end following their treatment, as side effects and challenges can continue after treatment ends. The symposium is yet another example of our Foundation's commitment to serving the health of our community in a holistic way that supports patients not only at the Hospital but in their homes, with their families and in their everyday lives.

The Power of Generosity

Thanks to the generosity of our Foundation's donor community and a dedicated committee of volunteers, the event is offered free of charge each year to all who attend.

We are especially grateful to our sponsors. The 2024 event was supported by presenting sponsors Sherwood and Elaine Sharfe, as well as major donors Motorcycle Ride for Dad, Saskatoon Chapter; Mallard Wealth Advisors; Saskatoon Prostate Cancer Support Group; Northern Resource Trucking; the Oucharek Quartet; the Ivan Jen and Suzanne Yip Endowment for MRI and Urology and a generous anonymous donor. As well, in-kind gifts from presenter Dr. Joseph Schnurr, Saskatoon Audio Visual and Wow Factor Events helped to reduce the cost of the event.

The Foundation and committee would also like to take the opportunity to thank Dr. Visvanathan for the leadership, expertise and guidance that he has dedicated not only to the symposium, but to the field of urological health and the health care landscape in our city and province.

To all the donors, supporters and volunteers who make this event possible: We thank you.

Music Saving Lives

by Fred Pischke, May 27, 2025

It was a Thursday afternoon in St. Paul's Hospital when my life was changed forever. I had gone looking for books to read when I heard the most beautiful voice and guitar playing I had ever heard. I sat, totally enchanted with this music running through my mind's eye. What I realized was my love of music was returning, which had vanished for 20 years. What that accomplished was a return of my life to me. I realized in no uncertain terms that I wanted to go on living! I completely owe my life to Lisa, that chance meeting, and that beautiful music.
